Other Information / Services

Daniel's multi faceted, multi dimensional talent was nurtured in a strict Pentecostal environment, where he began singing and playing the piano since the age of 5 years. A bigger platform was created for his talent when he was taken under the wings of The London Community Gospel Choir under its founder, Rev. Bazil Meade, and very swiftly rose through the ranks of as Choir director for 5 years.

This grounding has afforded him a prominent place both with in House music and the Gospel music scene in the UK. As an artist in his own right, he has won audience the world over with his amazing vocals and big flamboyant personality – to crowds as much as 100,000 when he performed at Party In The Park under the name of Blockster (Number 3 single in the UK charts), appearing on the same bill as Westlife, Phats and Small and Brandon Block. He has toured extensively throughout Europe and as far as Japan, South Africa, India and USA. His vocal and choral arrangement skills has been in demand for some years now – and is no stranger to the Christian Dior fashion shows in Paris (with Jeremy Healy) and even the Victoria Secrets fashion Show – where he conducted the Grammy award winning 'Hezekiah Walker and the Love Fellowship Choir (2002)...

As an accomplished keyboardist (piano and hammond organ), songwriter and vocal coach, he makes time coaching other big named artists as well as up and coming talent. He regularly holds vocal workshops and performance master classes, focussing on choral work, vocal technique and solo performances, instilling confidence in other artists, and as such, is always in demand.

In 2010, he was the first British choral director to be invited as guest director for the Stockholm International Gospel Choir festival – teaching his own original material and conducting a 900 voice choir. In 2011, he was the sole vocal coach and one of the backing vocalists for Blue, who represented the UK at the Eurovision Song Contest in Germany.

He can be contacted for short term or ongoing engagements in the capacity of vocal coach. He is also interested in providing songs for other artists in of other genres (r'n'b, pop and dance) and collaborating.
